VOL. LXXIV .- NO. 14.

AS THE REPUBLICAN CANDIDATE FOR GOVERNOR.

Morare White for Lieutenant-Governor Is the Suggestion of Republicans Who've Heard From Oyster Bay -Odell Suggests That Root's the Man.

Republicans discussed yesterday the following ticket:

For Governor-George B. Cortelyou of Hempstead.

For Lieutenant-Governor-Horace White of Syracuse.

The Republicans who talked about this ticket were of national and State importance; and they said that they had heard , it whispered at Oyster Bay and elsewhere. Mr. Cortelyou is Postmaster-General in President Roosevelt's Cabinet and was Secretary of the Department of Commerce and Labor under President Roosevelt. He was President McKinley's assistant secretary and is now also chairman of the Republican national committee.

Mr. White has represented at Albany as State Senator for ten years the Onondaga district. Both Mr. Cortelyou and Mr. White are young men. Both have been hearty supporters of President Roose-

Gov. Higgins's friends have not given up hope of his renomination. They are between wind and water, though, it was pointed out, because the Governor has not let it be known whether he is a candidate for renomination and this has proved most embarrassing to the Governor's personal friends at Albany.

Disinterested Republicans who are well informed but who have not taken any part in the factional disturbances of the Republican organization said yesterday that they believed Gov. Higgins to be absolutely out of the race and that it would be most unwise to nominate him, and they said that nobody was more responsible for this state of affairs than the Governor's friends who precipitated in the meeting of the Republican State committee that resolution, which was contrary to all precedent, calling for the election of Lieut .-Gov. Bruce as temporary chairman of the Republican State convention at Saratoga on September 25.

"That resolution," said one of the Governor's friends at the Republican Club last night, "has turned out fatally for Gov. Higgins. Gov. Higgins lost in the committee by one vote, and the resolution thus made the Governor on its face a minority factional candidate.

"Mr. Barnes has proved also that Gov. Higgins in his vote of 18 in the committee represented districts which would send many more delegates to the State convention than Mr. Odell would from the districts represented by the 19 votes which Mr. Odell controlled. But Mr. Barnes's argument is specious. That resolution made Gov. Higgins a factional candidate, and the Governor's out of it, I am quite sure. Just so with Mr. Hughes. He too is out of it. Mr Odell has made Mr. Hughes the factional Odell candidate, just as much as Gov. Higgins's friends in the State committee made the Governor a factional candidate. Mr. Hughes, though, is that Gov. Higgins has a substantial following of Republicans, up the State especially, whereas Mr. Hughes has no following at all, except Mr. Odell, Mr. Quigg and Mr. Dady, and they have only been using Mr. Hughes's name for purposes

Boss Odell was in town again yesterday, but he did not attack the Republican President or the Republican Governor again. He had heard or read that a great many Republicans would like to see Elihu Root, Secretary of State in President Roosevelt's Cabinet, nominated for Governor, and Boss Odell, knowing that Secretary Root would not return to the United States before October 5, ten days after the Saratoga convention, said:

"It would afford me great pleasure to support the Hon. Elihu Root for the nomination for Governor. He is an able man, he is popular and can be elected. Two years ago I favored the nomination of Mr. Root for Governor. He could have had the nomination without a particle of opposition if he would have accepted it. I have no intimation that he will accept this

The facts are that two years ago Mr. Root would not have accepted any nomination at the hands of Odell any more than he would this year. Nobody, it was emphatically stated last night by the friends of Mr. Root and Mr. Odell, knows this to be the situation better than Odell.

Boss Odell took a new tack with Mr. Hughes's name yesterday when he was asked if he had found any growing sentiment for Mr. Hughes.

"No," he replied; "I cannot say that I

Recurring to Elihu Root, Boss Odell said "There would be no question about his election. But I shall support any candidate nominated by the Republican State convention."

"Even Higgins?" "Yes, I will support Higgins if he is nom-

Republicans began to talk yesterday again about Boss Odell's successor as State chairman. They gave it to be their opinion that it would be either William Barnes, Jr., of Albany or Timothy L. Woodruff of Brooklyn. A good deal will depend, though, as to the choice of a State chairman upon the results of the primaries in all of the five

BUILD SCHOOLS, SAYS THE MAYOR, And Still More Schools; That's the Only

Thing-But We Need Money. Mayor McClellan said yesterday that the only way to solve the problem of giving adequate school accommodation to the children of the city was to build more schools. "The solution of the problem," he said, "is to build, build, build. But the money must be obtained. However, as the people of the city seem anxious that more schools should be provided their wishes must be obeyed, and it will be the policy of the administration to build new schools as quickly as possible."

Mr. McClellan said that be had had a conference yesterday with President Winthrop and Vice-President Greene of the Board of Education and that they had told him that when the duplicate and other erroneous school registrations had been weeded out there would be a large diminution of the registration figures, which seem to show that there are about 80,000 children on part time.

LIFE ALL SHE HAD TO GIVE. Girl Slayer of Gen. Mien Hanged-Her Inscription on a Photograph.

Special Cable Despatch to THE SUN. London, Sept. 13 .- A despatch from St. Petersburg says that Zenaide Konoplianikova, the slayer of Gen. Mien, who was hanged yesterday, was taken at night from the fortress of St. Peter and St. Paul on a Government cutter, escorted by a torpedo boat; through the sleeping city to Lake Ladoga; where she was landed at the Schuesselburg prison. Yesterday morning at 7 o'clock she was aroused. She refused to see a priest, firmly mounted the steps to the scaffold and her last words, as the rope was placed around her neck, were:

"Long live the social revolution, land nd liberty." Miss Konoplianikova presented her sis ter at her last interview with a photo-graph of herself inscribed:

AUTO BOAT ABLAZE IN RIVER.

OWNER AND TWO OTHERS FORCED TO JUMP OVERBOARD.

Lively Finish of the Hudson River Race -H. L. Bowden's Mercedes U. S. A. Takes Fire Near the Stake Boat -J. H. Headley's Den II. Rescues the Men.

H. I. Bowden's auto boat Mercedes U. S. A., which came from Boston to take part in the races of the Motor Boat Club of America on the Hudson River, caught fire yesterday afternoon off 110th street when nearing the finish of the race.

Mr. Bowden, Capt. James Barr, who steered her, and Charles Basle, the mechanician, gathered at the stern waiting for help. Several boats put out to their rescue, but before they could reach the burning vessel the heat had become so intense that the men had to jump into the river and take their chances of being picked up. They were in the water some minutes, swimming away from the burning boat. The heat was so great that the rescuers could not get near

The Mercedes had started in the race for high speed boats 33 feet long and under. She had to go three times around a triangular course, making in all 30% nautical miles. She was just nearing the finishing mark when she suddenly stopped and it was seen by those on the houseboat of the club that the men on the boat were working at the motor. These craft have a habit of breaking down and not much notice was taken of the mishap.

Suddenly the men lifted the covers on the motors and fanned them down quickly. Then flames shot up in the air. The Mer edes was about a quarter of a mile of shore and was drifting with the tide up stream toward the boat that marked the finishing line:

As soon as the flames shot up the three men went as far aft as possible and stood on the stern of the boat waiting for assist-The revenue cutter Manhattan ance. started for the burning boat, and at the ame moment a boat was lowered from ex-Commodore Frederick G. Bourne's steamer Colonia. Three boats also put off from the shore. J. H. Hoadley's Den II. was near the houseboat, and those watching the races shouted to him to go out, and in a moment the Den was tearing through

The three men on the burning vessel stood the heat as long as they could and then all three jumped into the water and were later picked up by the Don. Barr, Mr. Hoadley said, was almost gone when rescued, but the others were not much the worse for their ducking.

For a time it looked as though the Mercedes would be totally destroyed. The cutter Manhattan got to windward of the burning boat and turned a stream of water on her. Then the crew of the cutter got to work with a chemical fire extinguisher and soon put the fire out. The Mercedes was towed to the float. Mr. Bowden said that they had so much gasolene pumping into the cylinders that instead of exploding it burned and some of the burning fluid was forced out through the exhaust. This set fire to the gasolene that had gathered in the bottom of the the boat was in flames. He did not think the Mercedes was very badly damaged.

REGENT OF BRUNSWICK DEAD. Duke of Cumberland Doesn't Succeed

Kaiser May Name Prince Eitel. Special Cable Despatch to THE SUN. CAMENZ, Germany, Sept. 13.—Albrecht Prince of Prussia, Regent of the Duchy of Brunswick, who recently suffered a stroke of apoplexy, died to-day.

The death of Prince Albrecht will, it is expected, result in the Duke of Cumberland accepting the succession to the deceased Prince Regent and abandoning his preten-sions to the reestablishment of Hanover as an independent kingdom, which bar him from the succession. Should he not take this course, it is thought probable that the Kaiser, who will then have the power of appointment, will install his second son, Eitel Frederick, as Regent of the Duchy of Brunswick, with a view to his succession

Prince Albrecht had been Regent since 1885. He was born in 1837. He was a son of the late Prince Albrecht of Prussia, brother of the first German Emperor, William I. The heir to the throne of Brunswick is the Duke of Cumberland, but he is excluded, owing to his refusal to give up excluded, owing to his refusal to give up his claim to the throne of Hanover. Efforts made in recent years to bring about an understanding between Emperor William and the Duke of Cumberland on this matter have always failed, and in 1902 the Gov-ernment of the Duchy of Brunswick sent to the Diet a memorandum declaring that the Duke of Cumberland was not the sov-ereign of the duchy and that no one could he its sovereign unless he was a federal

SUBWAY IS COOLER. Tests at the Brooklyn Bridge Station

-New Apparatus Helps. Chief Engineer Rice of the Rapid Transit

Commission and the engineers of the subway have been making thermometer tests at the Brooklyn Bridge station of the subway to determine what effect the new ventilating and cooling apparatus has had.

Their tests show that the air in the bridge station is much purer than before the apparatus was put in, and that it is now at least four degrees cooler on the bridge station platforms than on the street level. At 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon a thernometer gave the temperature in the bridge station as 78 degrees. It was 81 degrees in City Hall Park. At the Times Square station of the subway, where the new apparatus hasn't been installed yet, the temperature was 83 degrees. At the Fourteenth street station it was 82 degrees. Since the ventilating and cooling apparatus was installed in the Brooklyn Bridge station, the only one where it is working, way passengers the past few days have noticed the difference gratefully. General Manager Hedley and Chief Engineer Rice of the Rapid Transit Commission said yesterday afternoon that the success of the new apparatus at the Brooklyn Bridge station makes it certain that next summer the subway will be endurable PERUS HOSPITALITY TO ROOT. A Special Session of the Senate Over the Secretary's Visit.

Special Cable Despatch to THE SUN LIMA, Sept. 13 .- The officers of the Peruvian cruiser Iquitos to-night gave a banquet in honor of the officers of the cruiser Charleston. The commander of the Iquitos, in toasting the guests, expressed gratitude for the kindness and attention shown him at Panama by Gov. Davis and Minister Barrett.

Secretary Root visited the mint to-day. The director presented Mrs. Root with a collection of the coins struck off since the independence of the country. Mr. Rootand the other members of his party were presented with medals in commemoration of their visit. Later Mr. Root visited [the famous palace of the Marquises of Torretagle, which was built in 1715.

The party finally attended a special session of the Senate, which voted to send a cable despatch to the American Senate expressing its pleasure at Mr. Root's visit the purposes of which, the message added, would strengthen the friendship and sympathy Peru professes for the great republic. To-morrow the American party will make a trip on the Croya Railway.

MORE PAY FOR STREET CAR MEN.

Oren Root, Jr., vice-president and general manager of the New York City Railway Company, announced last night a new scale of wages for employees of the surface lines in Manhattan, to go into effect Sunday, September 16.

The old rate for motormen was from $2.10 to $2.50 a day. The new rate is from $2.25 a day for beginners to $2.60 a day for those who have been in the service more than five years.

For conductors the old wage was from $2.00 to $2.35 a day. The new rate is from $2.15 to $2.45. Commenting on the increase of wages

Mr. Root said: "We feel that New York city should have the best service of any city in the country. We are trying to attract the most capable employees to this city by offering these increased wages, which are, on an average, 35 cents a day higher than those paid by any other surface traction company in the

NO HOPE OF A DEAL SINCE HIS FULL TICKET WAS NAMED.

Murphy, It Is Said, Recognizes That He Can't Lend His Support to an Outlaw Candidate-Sullivans New Hold the Balance of Power in the Hall.

The situation in Tammany is clearing up. This was the opinion expressed by the most competent authorities yesterday. The situation began to clear up, it was added, from the moment William R. Hearst saw that he could not carry out his understanding with William J. Conners of Buffalo, acting as the representative of Charles F. Murphy, to adjourn his convention entirely until after the regular Democratic convention assembles at Buffalo on September 25.

Very few outside of the game, it was nentioned yesterday, have fully appreciated the difficulties under which Mr. Hearst has sailed for several weeks. He didn't want to nominate himself for Governor at his convention, because he had been led to believe by Mr. Conners, still acting as the representative of Mr. Murphy, that if he didn't do so and Mr. Murphy won at the Tammany primaries on September 18. Mr. Murphy would swing over the 105 Tammany delegates to Mr. Hearst at

Then Mr. Hearst thought that he might nominate himself for Governor at his own convention and let the rest of the ticket slide, but in this programme he was confronted by the mutineers in his own organization, and as a result of the whole mess Mr. Murphy told his personal friends yesterday in Tammany that he didn't see how Tammany, under any circumstances, could now cast its vote for Mr. Hearst.

Mr. Murphy went on to tell these personal friends that Tammany was part of the regular Democratic organization of the State, and that he could not, in view of the action of Mr. Hearst's convention, now take up the cause of a guerrilla Democratic candidate for Governor. The situation is also clearing up in Tammany as to the present actual strength of Mayor McClellan, Mr. Murphy and the Sullivans in the organization. All hands agreed that the Mayor now controls eleven and a half districts, Mr. Murphy twelve district and the Sullivans nine and a half districts, and that the Sullivans, holding the balance of power, will at the proper time declare for a reorganization of Tammany Hall. This means the defeat of Mr. Murphy in the reorganization of Tammany. Furthermore, it was declared on the most competent authority, that at the proper time John F. Ahearn, President of the Borough of Manhattan, will follow the Sullivans in

Dynamite by Indiana's Intervention. WEST BADEN, Ind., Sept. 13 .- It develops that the State of Indiana has not been the only blighting agency working on the West Baden and French Lick gambling

A systematic blackmailing concern, with headquarters in Chicago, had been making demands on the Indiana concerns for some time before the State closed them. In enforcing its demands the blackmail ing combination used dynamite once, blowing a section out of the veranda of the French Lick place, and on another occasion touched off a charge of giant powder under the West Baden casino. The Chicago blackmailers made their first demand last May. Letters were sent to the managers of the casinos demanding that they "negotiate terms of peace." The destruction of property and possibly of life was specified as the penalty for failure to come to terms.

Tom Taggart and Ed Vallard decided to ignore the letters. Then the demonstration began.

First a section was blown out of the front veranda of the French Lick Casino one night with dynamite. The next morning's mail brought a letter asking the manager of the casino how he "Liked that," and if he didn't think he had better "negotiate" before a full charge was set off under his place. A few nights later powder enough to cause a scare, but little damage, was burned

COL. S. C. RENWICK ARRESTED Accused of Cashing Worthless Cheeks

under the West Baden house

the Hotel Victoria A man giving the name of Col. Stanhope C. Renwick and refusing to furnish the police with his address or any other information about himself was arrested by Special Detective Andrew Hanley, in the employ of the Victoria Hotel, last night and charged at the Tenderloin station house with passing bad checks. Edson Emerson, cashier of the Victoria, made the charge. The checks were for $20 and $10, and were drawn on the First National Bank of New Haven. They were signed by Renwick on July 28. At the station house Emerson said that Renwick used to keep expensive apartments at the Victoria and was credited with having a fortune and being related to several prominent families in New York. He left the hotel several years ago, but on July 28 last he went into the hotel and asked Emerson to cash the two checks for him, saying that he was going to Coney Island with some friends and wanted to have some ready money with him. When the two checks were returned from the New Haven bank with the words "Unknown-no account" written across their face Detective Hanley was put on the search for Renwick. He saw Renwick last night about 10 o:clock standing talking to a young woman outside the Imperial Hotel. He followed Renwick into the hotel and overheard him asking the cashier to cash a check. Hanley thought it time to interfere. he was being taken to the station house Renwick asked that Police Commissioner Waldo be communicated with, saying that Waldo be communicated with, saying that the Commissioner was a relative of his and that he would surely get him out of the scrape. His request was refused and he was locked up.

Hanley says that when Renwick comes up in the Jefferson Market court for a hearing to-morrow there will be half a dozen people there to bring additional charges. The total amount of money alleged to have been obtained by Renwick on bad checks will amount to several hundred dollars, Hanley said.

Hanley said. Col. Renwick lived at 1030 East 164th street in January last. In that month his wife and her lawyers gained access to a room in the Pickwick Hotel occupied by Col. English Newspapers on the Chaetle Situation and Landing of Marines.

Special Cuble Despatch to THE SUN. LONDON, Sept. 14.-The news of the landng of American marines at Havana confirms the opinion held here that American intervention in Cuba cannot be long delayed. The Standard editorially blames the United States for the present disorder. It says that President McKinley's intervention was carried out in the name of peace and civilization, but the net result is renewed tumult, barbarism and savagery. Either the Americans must tolerate anarchy in Cubs or exercise an effective protectorate.

President Roosevelt would doubtless act promptly and vigorously if he did not have to think of the election campaign. Whatever the final issue, it will be condemned by the Democrats, who are standing aside, Palma to Ask Washington to ready to make political capital out of the result. If the Cubans are left in their present condition Bryan, the Standard says, will denounce the apathy of the Administration. If they are reduced to order and governed from Washington he will denounce the tyrannous imperialism, and coin beautiful phrases about the inalienable rights of nationbood and human liberty.

The Morning Post says that Cuba is not strong enough to work out her own salvation. She cannot without American support maintain a government and secure the progress of the country. Much as the American Government may regret the necessity for taking a step which will be unpopular with a large section of the country, she will not be able to refrain permanently from taking it. The destiny of the United States stands behind her and urges her imperatively on to the next step in her overseas expansion.

With Wind and Seas. The steamship Koenigin Luise, which arrived yesterday from Genoa, Naples and Gibraltar encountered the recent hurricane on September 10. At 2 o'clock in the afternoon of that day the hurricane broke with terrific force from the southwest, the barometer falling rapidly

At 4 o'clock the wind veered to southeast, with tremendous seas breaking constantly over the foredeck. At 8 o'clock the wind was east. The barometer fell to 28.06, the lowest point that Capt. Volger had ever seen. At 9 o'clock the vessel was slowed down to barely steerage way. The centre of the storm passed and the wind calmed, then suddenly veered to the north, then to the northwest, blowing harder than ever. The seas increased in size and came frequently over the bridge. The vessel, however, rode out the gale with steadiness.

The hurricane lasted fourteen hours. On board the Koenigin Luise were nine chauffeurs and fifteen motor cars, many of which are entered in the Vanderbilt cup race. There were also thirty-five singers for the Metropolitan Opera Company.

ONE CITY OWNERSHIP FAILURE. Chase Bank Put Up a Street Sign After

Cedar street after yesterday's hard shower was like a swimming pool. The street has been torn up for some time past and complaints have been made to the city. The Chase National Bank folks painted a nice big sign and placed it on a pedestal in the gutter. The sign read:

"This is municipal ownership the city owns the streets." The sign was just in place when a big auto hit the pool with a splash and came to a dead stop. A sign on the auto was "Vote for Hearst and Municipal Owner-

no contest of the will of Hermann Oelrichs

Mrs. Oelrichs arrived late last night and was met by her attorney, Joseph S. Tobin. According to a statement by Mr. Tobin there is doubt whether Mrs. Oelrichs will contest the will at all.

Personally Mrs. Oelrichs does not want any of the property devised to the Oelrichs family, but she resents the fact that her son, Hermann Oelrichs, Jr., should have been ignored entirely by his father.

U. S. TARS LAND IN HAVANA

Rebels Offer to Surrender All Their Forces to Commander of Cruiser.

LATTER CONSULTS PALMA.

Allow an Acceptance of Surrender.

Special Cable Despatch to THE SUN. HAVANA, Sept 13 .- A force consisting of thre compinies, 155 men in all, landel from the United States cruiser Denver at half-past 5 o'clock this afternoon. This action was taken at the request of Mr. Sleeper, the American Charge d'Affaires, with the view to protecting the Americans here, but in some quarters it is said to have been taken at the request of President The Americans camped in the Plaza de Armas, which faces the pala e, near the waterfront. The stern of the Denver can be seen f om the palace. The Americans landed at the Machina wharf, about a third of a mile up the harbor, and marched up Officina street with a 3 inch field piece and two Colt machine guns, which can shoot 600 shots a minute. The force is commanded by Lieutenant-Commander M. L. Miller, The other officers are Lieutenants J. A. Campbell and L. C. added ruefully, "I'm afraid this knocks me Hazard, and Ensign Blakely, acting as Adjutant. The force will obtain its meals take ever so long. Perhaps I will have to from the Denver and will not entail any expense on the Cuban Government. The sanitary arrangements are perfect. The men are camped on the grassy space in front of the old Fuerza building. In case of necessity they could sweep any force attacking the front of the palace or could cover all the streets leading to the palace by moving a few yards from their encampment. visited to-night by an emissary of Senator Zayas, the Liberal leader, who has hitherto escaped arrest, and of Gen. Loynas del Castillo, commander of the revolutionary forces in the province of Havana. The emissary stated that if Commander Colwell would guarantee Señors Zayas and Castillo a fair trial they and all the revolutionary forces in the field would surrender to him.

Commander Colwell replied that he was not in Cuba for the purpose of intervening; but merely to protect American interests. Commander Colwell subsequently saw President Palma, to whom he communicated the proposal. He said that if President Palma would obtain the consent of the Washington Government he would act in

Senor Palma expressed himself as very much pleased, and said he would certainly ask Washington to authorize Commander Colwell to accept the surrender of the rebels. Commander Colwell later informed the emissary of the President's attitude. In a previous interview with Commander

Colwell President Palma stated that he could not guarantee the lives of the Americans in Havana, and he therefore asked that marines be landed. Commander Colwell stated that he would not defend the ralace in case it was attacked; as he was only acting-in defence of the

The rebels appear to be in complete control of the provinces of Pinar del Rio, Hathe revolution who apparently is well informed estimates that there are at least 15,000 rebels in the field in the three provinces. A high Government official admits that the situation is most grave and adds that the revolutionists have put an end to the republic in an insane spirit of revenge.

He also states that the Hatuey sugar mill at Santo Domingo, Santa Clara province, has been destroyed by the insurgents, who are about to destroy the famous Constancia sugar mill, which is supposed to be valued at $2,000,000. The Hatuey mill was owned by Mr. Rabeu, an American of Cuban decent. His son states that the value of the mill was over $2,000,000 and that $500,000 was spent for machinery this American company. It is also reported that the Homeguero and San José estates have been destroyed by Guzman and his rebel forces, since it was stated that Pino Guerra had 8,000 men marching on Havana; and that this explains the landing of the Americans. The Government appears to fear its ability to deal with the situation.

The Constancia property belongs to an
